

Freedom Pass circuit

Section 23: Watford to Watford Junction

Distance: 1.33 mi 2.13 km
to Stanmore 11.27 mi 18.03 km

Introduction

This section is very short, since it simply crosses the centre of Watford. It may be conveniently combined with the previous section (which comes from Chesham) or with the following section (which takes you on to Stanmore).

There are plenty of places to eat in Watford.

Directions

Turn right onto the road that passes across the front of Watford Station, Cassiobury Park Avenue.

Bear right just before the gate into Cassiobury Park, and right again past the croquet lawns.

Keep on the path all the way to the exit of the Park.

Here the previous section from Chesham joins from the left.

Keep going alongside the main road.

Just after the Colosseum and Town Hall, go down the steps on the left, and turn right under the main road.

To Stanmore:

Carry on straight ahead through the pedestrian precinct.

Pass under a flyover, then take the second left into the Artria Shopping Centre.

Leave the shopping centre, cross the main road, and turn right along it.

Take the footpath on the left after the multi-storey carpark (not the subway).

Keep straight ahead on the path past the church.

At the end, turn left then right.

To Watford Junction:

Bear left over the footbridge, and turn left along Albert Road South, in front of the large mock-Tudor building.

Cross the dual carriageway at the lights, and carry on in the same direction along Albert Road North.

Cross St Johns Road into Westland Road.

Turn right into Shady Lane, then immediately left into Verulam Passage.

At the end, cross the dual carriageway at the pedestrian crossing on the right.

Watford Junction Station is directly in front of you.

At the end of Sutton Road, turn right, joining the route from Watford Junction from the left.
